FOR PEOPLE AND PLANET

OUR WORLD IRISH AID AWARDS 2017

IRISH AID

Irish Aid is Ireland's official programme of overseas development assistance, managed by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. Irish Aid works with governments, aid organisations and the United Nations in over 80 countries.

Irish Aid provides:

- › Emergency humanitarian aid to communities affected by war, climate change and extreme weather events
- › Development aid – assistance for long-term improvements for communities in some of the poorest countries in the world

Irish Aid works in 8 partner countries in Africa and Asia to tackle hunger, poverty, climate change and inequality, and to support human rights. The Irish Aid programme is internationally ranked as one of the best in the world.

THE AIM OF THE OUR WORLD IRISH AID AWARDS

Irish Aid established the Awards in 2005 to:

- › Increase pupils' understanding of the United Nations Global Goals and the work of Irish Aid
- › Help pupils to explore the links between their lives and the lives of children in developing countries

THE UNITED NATIONS GLOBAL GOALS FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

In 2015, the United Nations agreed a set of 17 Global Goals to deal with the most serious problems facing the world, such as poverty, injustice, and the damage to the environment. These Goals, which build on the achievements of the previous UN Millennium Development Goals, aim to make a better life for all people now and in the future.

Since 2000, the United Nations Global Goals have led to many improvements for the world's population, for example:

- › The number of people suffering from hunger has been reduced by 220 million
- › The number of extremely poor people has been cut by half
- › The number of children out of school: down from 100 million to 57 million
- › The number of children under 5 dying annually from hunger and disease has been reduced by half

But still, in our world of 7.5 billion people:

- › Nearly 800 million people worldwide lack access to adequate food
- › An estimated 5.9 million children under 5 died in 2015, mostly from preventable causes
- › Globally, 57 million children of primary school age are out of school
- › Over 23,000 animal species face extinction across the globe, impacting on the ecosystems that we rely on for health, nutrition, livelihoods and leisure

✿ 193 countries, including Ireland, have promised to work together to tackle these global challenges and achieve the Global Goals by the year 2030.

THE THEME FOR THE 2017 AWARDS: 'FOR PEOPLE AND PLANET'

TAKE PART IN 5 EASY STEPS

1. EXPLORE

The Awards website, www.ourworldirishaidawards.ie, contains a range of useful materials, including:

- › Downloadable PDFs of the pupil's magazine (Resource section)
- › Detailed curriculum-linked lesson plans (Teacher section), including:
  - › Worksheets for pupils
  - › Teacher resource sheets
- › Good practice ideas (Teacher section)

These materials will help you and your pupils to think and talk about development issues, and explore the 2017 Awards theme.

REMEMBER:
Fill out the Entry Diary (included with this booklet) with your group/class as you go!

2. CHOOSE

Having used the magazine and lesson plans to help pupils understand the theme, choose a relevant topic of interest for your project.

Projects in any medium could focus on any, or all, of the following:

- › The importance of the Global Goals as a way to improve the lives of children in developing countries (for a list of countries officially classified as 'developing' visit www.ourworldirishaidawards.ie/faqs)
- › The experiences of children in one or more of Irish Aid's 8 partner countries
- › The importance of taking care of the environment as a way of fighting hunger, poverty, climate change and inequality in developing countries

Whatever the chosen topic, it is important that the project addresses the 2017 theme: 'For People and Planet', with a focus on the developing world context.

3. CREATE

Create a project that shows your pair/group/class response to this year's theme. Projects can take any form. You will find plenty of ideas on the website.

Remember to complete and submit the Entry Diary with your project by the deadline. The Diary is used as part of the judging process, so it is very important to note all the work done by you and your pupils throughout.

4. ENGAGE

Pupils should communicate what they have learned to the rest of the school and/or the wider community. They could, for example, do one or more of the following:

- › Talk to other classes in the school
- › Display posters, artwork or information in the school or local community
- › Host an assembly or exhibition of their work
- › Tell people about what can be done to help eradicate poverty and protect the environment
- › Compile and show a film or slide presentation
- › Write to public representatives or public figures
- › Send an article or email to a local newspaper or community newsletter
- › Record a radio show
- › Write a blog or use social media to record their progress and raise awareness

Don't forget to note how your pupils engage with others in the Entry Diary.
