

Global Citizens Near You

In challenging times, it's good to always look for the helpers; you will always find people willing to help each other. Many organisations and individuals in Ireland are doing their part to help others during these trying times and it is inspiring.

Below is an example of the some of the work Irish Aid is doing:

The Irish Government, which runs the Irish Aid programme, is partnering with non-governmental organisations (NGOs or charities) to help with the COVID-19 pandemic. They are helping by providing supports such as handwashing stations which will help protect people in less wealthy countries who do not have clean, running water at home.

Can you think of other people, groups or organisations in your community who are helping in small or big ways? Write or draw a picture to show who they are and what they do for your community.
